

► Loads of generosity

Photo by Rich Place

Volunteers from the West Valley Demonstration Project stand with Parkview Store Manager Joe Talbot (left) in front of two trucks Friday morning loaded with food ready to be donated to eight local food pantries. The WVDP Food Drive will contribute nearly 122,000 pounds of food to pantries this year, according to organizers of the annual initiative. The cash donations are made by WVDP employees, partner companies, subcontractors and community partners such as Parkview Supermarket in Salamanca and Walmart.